

Discover people, experience their Stories and find your dream job.

whatchado, the handbook of life stories is the next gen career orientation platform. We do storytelling on video: In short videos, thousands of people tell in face-to-face conversations about their jobs, careers and lives. By doing so whatchado highlights opportunities in the field of professional orientation and provides inspiration and motivation.

No matter if you have no idea which career path to take or if you already know exactly what to do professionally: whatchado helps you in finding your calling.

Active Search

Do you already know in which industry or company you want to work?

If so, you can discover this by means of our search function. Receive authentic insights as to a certain job position or company from employees and collect valuable information. This way you get to know a potential employer as well as its corporate culture.

whatchado Matching

No idea yet?

Get inspiration from people who have already found their dream job. Complete the whatchado Matching by answering 14 questions related to your interests and discover people who think like you do. Get inspired by their Stories and find your calling.

Job Profiles

Do you already know what job you would like to do?

Then visit our job profile page and get to know everything important about your dream job. Learn about the daily work routine, future prospects and training opportunities. Take a look at the Stories of people who are already in this job and gain new insights.